FOREWORD

We have selected the theme "By My Spirit" — STAND, SPEAK, SHARE, and SERVE not merely as a means for organizing and uniting the material of our book but because we feel it portrays the true ideals for which E.N.C. stands.

By the Spirit of the Lord our faculty and administration STAND firm down through the years for the high standards of a holiness college.

Today our students SPEAK through their Spirit-filled lives to the E.N.C. community. Tomorrow they will SPEAK to the far corners of the earth.

With a Christian Spirit we SHARE in all our activities at E.N.C. for every student is given equal opportunity to participate.

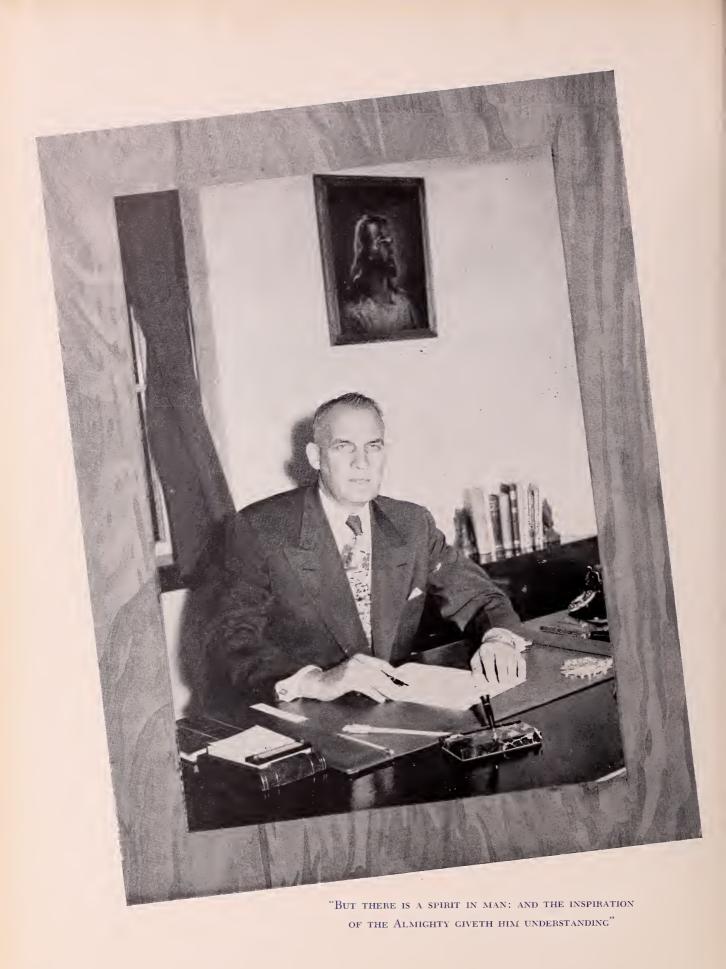

We SERVE Him Who by His Spirit calls us to fulfill the challenge to STAND before, SPEAK to, SHARE with, and SERVE our fellow man.

"Not by might nor by power but BY MY SPIRIT, saith the Lord."

-Zechariah 4:6

The building of a holiness college is not an easy assignment. There are countless problems to be solved, disappointments to be met and frustrations to be faced. Many interested and influential friends must be found and educational recognition must be sought. It is laborious work to raise the funds necessary for the erection of buildings and the acquisition of endowment. It is equally difficult to secure a strong faculty of well-trained scholars who are consecrated to the cause of Christian education. Complete victory in such a venture does not come through the successful cultivation of sources of great wealth nor by the enlistment of men or intellectual attrainment. It comes only by constant effort to ascertain and follow the leadings of the Spirit of God.

The building of a life is not an easy task. It is to assist in such an undertaking that holiness colleges like E.N.C. have come into existence. Fortunate indeed, is the young person who is privileged to spend part of his life in this environment. He can not only receive the finest type of training in his chosen field but can also find a stimulation and a motivation which will enable him to outthink and outlive his fellows. He will learn that the "summum bonum" of life does not consist in the accumulation of wealth but in the glad giving of oneself to a life of service. He will be constantly inspired by the glorious knowledge that the highest form of success in life comes "not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit."

OUR NEW NEASE LIBRARY

CORNERSTONE CEREMONY

From the very beginning of the school year we enjoyed watching the building progress of our new Floyd W. Nease Memorial Library. We watched the bricks go up and the windows go in. From our classrooms we could hear the pounding of hammers and the turning of the concrete mixer.

We remember the morning when we had to squeeze to get a glimpse of the laying of the cornerstone. Then that February day was an exciting one for we all had a chance to help. That afternoon we carried the 22,000 books from our old library to our new one in less than two hours.

Now our new modern library stands as a memorial to the sacrifice and faith of former President Floyd W. Nease, of the E.N.C. faculty and administration, and of the thousands of contributors who have made it possible.

BERTHA MUNRO

A.M.

Dean of the College Literature

". . . full of the spirit of wisdom . . ."

We feel that our Dean is the embodiment of all that E.N.C. stands for scholastically and spiritually.

To us she represents the type of character which our school is endeavoring to develop in its students.

Wisdom "of the spirit," living truth, teaching Christ, serving and leading her charges into "The Spirit-Filled Life"; Dean Munro is the spirit of E.N.C.

ADMINISTRATIVE

MADELINE N. NEASE

A.B.

Registrar

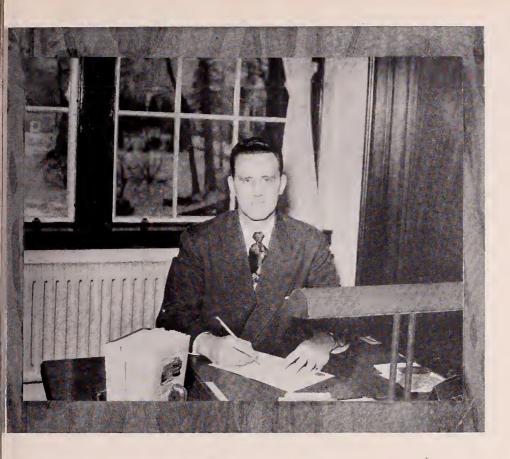

"... in the spirit of meekness"

Length of hours spent in her office and numbers of semesters spent in her position as registrar could not measure the quality or character of Mrs. Nease's service to us and E.N.C.

We do not realize fully her responsibility, but we do appreciate her consistent helpfulness and humility at all times.

Fulfilling Christ's standard of living, Mrs. Nease challenges with quietness and works "in the spirit of meekness."

KENNETH H. PEARSALL

A.B.

Executive Field Secretary

". . . upon whom thou shalt see the spirit"

We saw clearly the spirit of genuine Christian living and of an indefatigable faith and trust in God manifested by Mr. Pearsall this year.

As representative of our school he seems to carry with him the spirit of optimistic determination and assurance of progress that is needed in such a position. Youthful enthusiasm plus divine motivation have shown through his spirit-filled life.

CLAUDE C. SCHLOSSER

A.B.

Business Manager

. . . the letter killeth, but the Spirit giveth life"

Always tempering justice with mercy, Mr. Schlosser directs the financial affairs of the school while striving to lead others into "The Way."

We remember his hearty laugh and sparkling eyes which reflect his inner joy in living a full and active life.

Never harshly legalistic, Mr. Schlosser manages efficiently while displaying the Christian spirit and the "life more abundant."

HONOR SOCIETY

We look to the members of our honor society for leadership along scholastic lines and for all-round participation in college life.

Consistently high in their intellectual attainments, they set the pace for old and new students who are interested in the progress of our school.

The main activity this year consisted of the annual Phi Delta Lambda dinner held in the college dining hall. Professor Knowles, the guest speaker, spoke on the subject, "Problems Students Meet in Graduate School."

GRADUATES IN THEOLOGY

We look admirably to these students. Having completed four years at E.N.C., they now have joined us again for a fifth year of study in advanced theology and philosophy in order to receive the Bachelor of Theology degree.

Most of these men are married and have heavy responsibilities, but they feel that they must fulfill the commandment, "Study to show thyself approved of God."

Next year most of them will enter the active ministry and will begin to "reap the harvest" for God and the Church of the Nazarene.

Endeavoring to follow our motto "Ye are Living Epistles" we have found this, our senior year, to be the happy climax of four years of college life.

Studies climaxed by comprehensives (when we realized how little we knew); social activities by extra social privileges, outings, clambakes, open-house at Smiths' and our winter escapade at The Elm; religious activities by front row chapel seats and the close fellowship in class prayer meetings. Then the whole year was climaxed by Junior-Senior Day with the big banquet and Dean Munro's unforgettable-because so life-like-sketches of our fellow classmates; Baccalaureate Sunday and Graduation.

And through it all the nostalgic whispers and thoughts of "This is the last time we'll be doing this together" made us look back over our four years and realize how we had changed. How our thinking has been broadened and our ideals have been lifted and made sure.

E.N.C. has changed, too. We've seen the dedication of the new church. Then ours was the first class to use the senior booths in the new library.

Four years of dreaming, (hoping and anxiety) have come true - a complete college education. Freshmen . . . Seniors . . . the dream is over and we're alumni . . . we go out challenged to be "Living Epistles" for God and E.N.C.

Senior Recitalist

Alice Jean Shoff, our only Senior recitalist of the year, delighted us with her rendition of "Golliwogg's Cake-Walk" by Debussey. Favorites from Beethoven, Schumann, and Chopin completed the piano concert.

With some apprehension, yet more anticipation we became upperclassmen. What has it meant to be upperclassmen? . . . Many things . . . a realization of how little we know and how much there is to learn . . . a new unity in class activities and outings (the surprised looks and protestations the maimed and bruised Seniors gave as they had to crawl into our igloo for their reception will never be forgotten) . . . close Christian fellowship in class prayer meetings . . . the joys, excitement and thrills of Junior-Senior day and commencement.

But the theme of our Thanksgiving Chapel program, Durer's "Praying Hands," will remain deeply imprinted on our hearts and as we become Seniors will help us to make our last year a victorious one.

OUR DEBATE TEAM

"We came, we spoke, we conquered" might well sum up the accomplishment of E.N.C.'s first intercollegiate debating team, which took second place in the fifth annual debate tournament at Tufts College, December 5-6 and took third place at the M.I.T. debate tournament held on February 22 in Boston.

Our school representation at the tournament at Tufts College consisted of two debating teams which took second place out of 21 colleges and universities. Only one debating team was allowed to enter the tournament at M.I.T. This team included: Jeanette Moorehead and Herbert Dodge on the negative side with Waveline Trout and Carolyn McEachern on the affirmative side. They won eight debates in succession but were eliminated in the semi-final round by a split decision of the judges. They took third place out of 33 colleges and universities represented.

The subject of the debates this year was the Fair Employment Practice Commission (F.E.P.C.). Our congratulations go not only to our debaters but to their excellent coaches, Professors Golden and Dygoski.

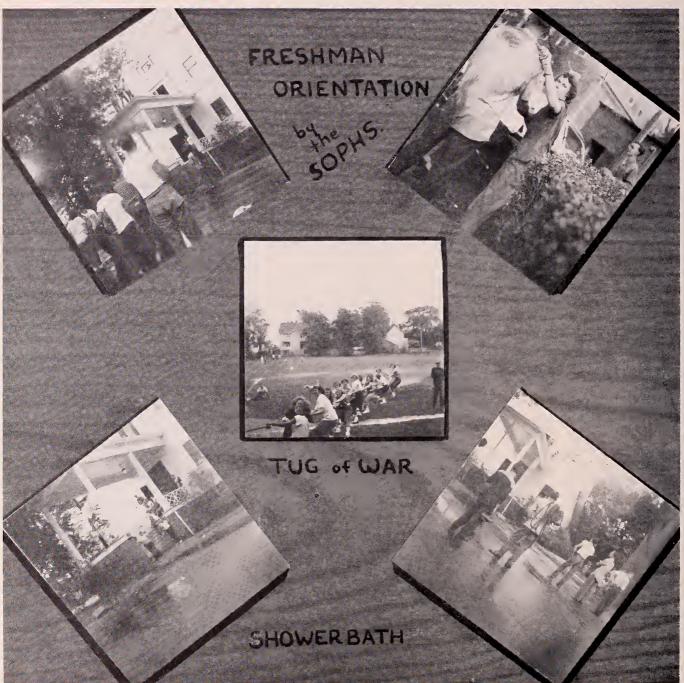

This is the first year E.N.C. has entered debate tournaments and experienced debaters from larger schools thought that there could be little competition from these "green" debaters from E.N.C. but we proved that the bigger they come the harder they fall.

"We are the Sophomores." With what pride we found ways of letting the Freshmen know this all-important fact and after being initiated by orders, exercises and a deluge of water, they were sure of it.

We can't forget our outings, either . . . ghost stories on Nantasket's cold windy beach . . . the fun we had together with the freshmen in the Blue Hills.

But most of all there remain memories of Monday evenings when we experienced real fellowship and unity learning to share and bare our burdens and joys with our classmates.

Now . . . we are no longer "mighty" and are no longer "Sophomores," but look anxiously forward to the activities of the Junior Year.

 $Timid\ldots shy\ldots green\ldots scared\ldots$  we arrived  $\ldots$  arrived for our first year at college.

Initiation was a wet one and Rush day baffled us for never before had we been teased, pampered, begged, mauled and promised so much all at the same time.

After the first Western Civ. exam, we knew that it really was college. And after the first chapel we began to realize a sense of belonging.

Class outings were times of relaxation and fun and also gave a sense of unity. Class prayer meetings have been a special means of helping us to solve the problems every Freshman faces.

As we leave behind the first year of our college career, we take inventory and find that it has been a year of spiritual growth, scholastic achievement and loads of fun.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

Representing their respective countries in classes and extra-curricular activities, our foreign students provided us with many interesting conversations on customs and traditions in other lands.

We consider them to be really zealous in their efforts to study to show themselves "approved unto God . . . rightly dividing the word of truth."

They are always ready to co-operate in any way, and to share their experiences with us. Their influence has added a cosmopolitan flavor to campus life.

Our foreign students hail from Nigeria, Japan, Trinidad, Puerto Rico and Canada.

Although this department was only recently organized we feel that already the Bible Certificate Course has been a valuable addition to the curriculum at E.N.C. The students of this special ministerial course of study have an earnest desire to prepare themselves for active service for the Lord.

We appreciate the genuine ambition of these students and consider them a vital part of our whole program for Christian education.

UNDERCLASSMEN

The social at Cameron's, the Christmas party at Nease's, the invigorating early morning breakfast at Faxon Park – these were gatherings that gave us recreation, fun, and close fellowship together.

Then there were the class prayer meetings which have taught us how to pray together and have helped to guide us in our everyday living for Christ.

We look ahead, anxious to become college freshmen (in spite of initiation) and we look back, grateful for the stabilizing and preparatory influence of E.N.A.

"Stop, look, and go Delta," was our slogan on Rush Day, and fifty-two students managed to get on the right track. The Delta corner of the gym was pulsating with the steam, clanging bell, and chugging engine of a giant locomotive.

We'd like to tell you of so many things . . . an outing in the Blue Hills . . . the "hike up the hill" . . . pork chop dinners cooked in aluminum foil . . . the hayride . . . the Delta-Zeta boat cruise.

Friday night prayer meetings knitted us together. We supported our athletes all the way. We carry with us pleasant memories.

"Delta doings" were many and varied this year.

We wish we could tell you what a good year we've had. We remember Rush Day and the days before it when we slaved faithfully. At last our lighthouse began to take shape under our busy hands. Our beacon light flashed on and off, and when the day was over we knew that it had guided forty new members through the life preserver into our society.

Occasional joining with other societies for prayer helped to improve our society relationships. From September to May—We Kappas enjoyed every minute of our society activities!

Kappa capers were fun for all.

"Find yourself in the Sigmas," We're glad we made the Sigma choice, because we found ourselves in the Sigma society. It's been real fun. We're proud of our tradition of being peppy, enthusiastic, and cooperative. On Rush Day our gingerbread house looked like a storybook picture. Hansel and Gretel charmed forty-three new students into our midst. And what fun we had on our outing!

As we joined in prayer meetings there was a deep spirit of communion and Christian fellowship, which helped us to forge ahead spiritually.

Certainly Sigma Sal and Sigma Sam enjoyed a good year together.

"Keep them spellbound!" — We, too, were spellbound on Rush Day as we admired our flying saucers against the star-spangled backdrop. The forty-two students who joined Zeta ranks rewarded our hard work—planning, building, painting.

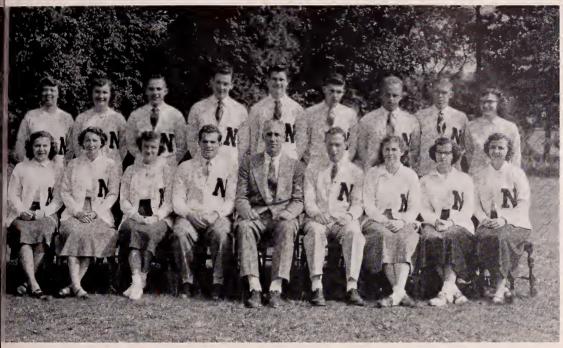

We were fulfilling our motto, "Excelsior," as we gathered for weekly prayer meetings and grew spiritually. Our bond of fellowship tightened as we played ball on the field and court and as we cheered our teams from the sidelines.

We started our work early this year. In October we cooperated with the college athletic department in purchasing thirty-six complete new football uniforms. The new equipment made possible a greater degree of student participation in the games. At game time each society was able to outfit fully nine ball players.

When basketball season came around, we put on our ticket-sale drive, to raise funds for operating expenses and improvement of the athletic program. With his dollar and a quarter a student bought a box seat to eighteen close court contests. As a result of the sales, this year we were able to provide for both girls' and boys' games officially registered referees. Our other project was to install a watercooler in the gym.

We met in the spring to confer membership in the N Club on qualified athletes. This election provides the E.N.C. sports program for 1953-54 with an enthusiastic group of leaders.

FOOTBALL

The 1952 football season was a thriller — we never could tell till it was all over who would be on top. No team won more than three of its six games, nor less than two. In the two crucial Sigma-Delta contests, we suffered through two nerve-wracking tie games — 31-31 and 12-12. The Black-and-Gold started strong, but their late-season losses to never-say-die Kappa and Zeta squads helped the powerful Sigmas to finish first.

We saw new faces this year on the gridiron, along with the old. On our All-Star squad were veterans Glenn Hornberger, Dick Heinlein, Wayne Speakman, Johnny Friend, Bob Loveless, Dave Mc-Savaney, Hank Reeves, Dave Daniels, and Karl Retter. Rookies on the squad included some outstanding performers: Okie Pierce, Roy Quanstrom, Oscar Eller, DeLyle Henry, Bob Briggs, Chuck Williams, and Bill Day.

After the last game was over, we toted up the score, reflected on the fun, and wandered into the gym to see what the winter promised.

CLUBS

Our departmental clubs are reorganized every year and meet one Tuesday evening every month. These clubs are designed to stimulate interest in the student's major field and to provide information not usually offered in the classroom.

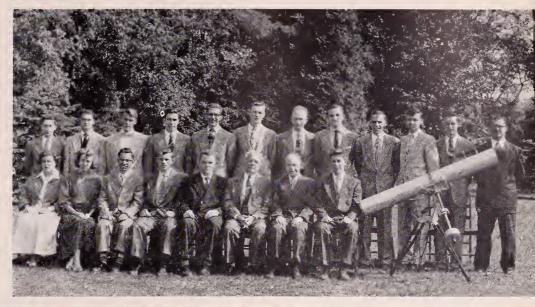

One of the outstanding events of the clubs this year was an address on Neo-thomism by Dr. John Rock, S. J., of Boston College to the Bowne Philosophical Society. The highlight of the Psychology Club was its tour of the Frenold Institute for the Mcntally Retarded. Tours of the literary spots in Plymouth and Concord were the features of the Literature Club activities.

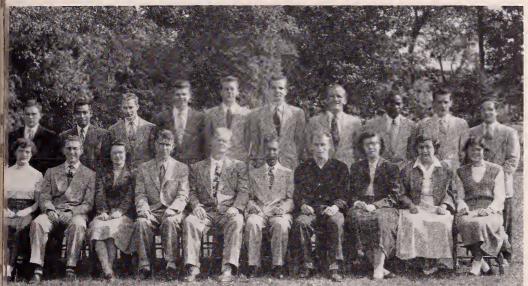

Other club activities included field trips, group discussions, projects, films, lectures, and parties.

Our campus broadcasting station, operated solely by the students, is one phase of school life from which we all benefit.

Much of the twenty-four hour-a-week broadcasting was the rebroadcasting of the FM station WXHR. This consisted of symphonies, recordings, cantatas, operas, and record reviews.

An additional feature was participation of the departmental clubs in a weekly program.

Devotional messages were conducted by members of the faculty and student body and special music was provided by school talent.

Starting the year with a warm welcome to us all, the members of the Council sponsored the annual "Open House" for members of the community, student body, and faculty. Prizes were awarded for the best rooms, and a hilarious skit entitled, "The Lamp Went Out" was the entertaining feature of the evening.

After-dinner prayer meetings for the girls were sponsored by the Council and these proved to be a blessing to all.

A beautiful Christmas tree was set up in the parlor, and painted windows and festive decorations added to the beauty of the campus during the Yuletide season.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

A Thanksgiving party started the year off right for our many mistresses of the classroom. A film on "How to Use the Telephone" was featured in one meeting as an aid in teaching technique, together with other audio-visual equipment.

Later in the year, practice teaching provided topics for discussion and debate and much practical advice was received by all.

ROVER CREW COUNCIL

Their natural habitat was the cabin in the Blue Hills, where the boys relaxed and enjoyed meals cooked a la Babcock—wrapped in tinfoil and cooked outdoors in an open fire.

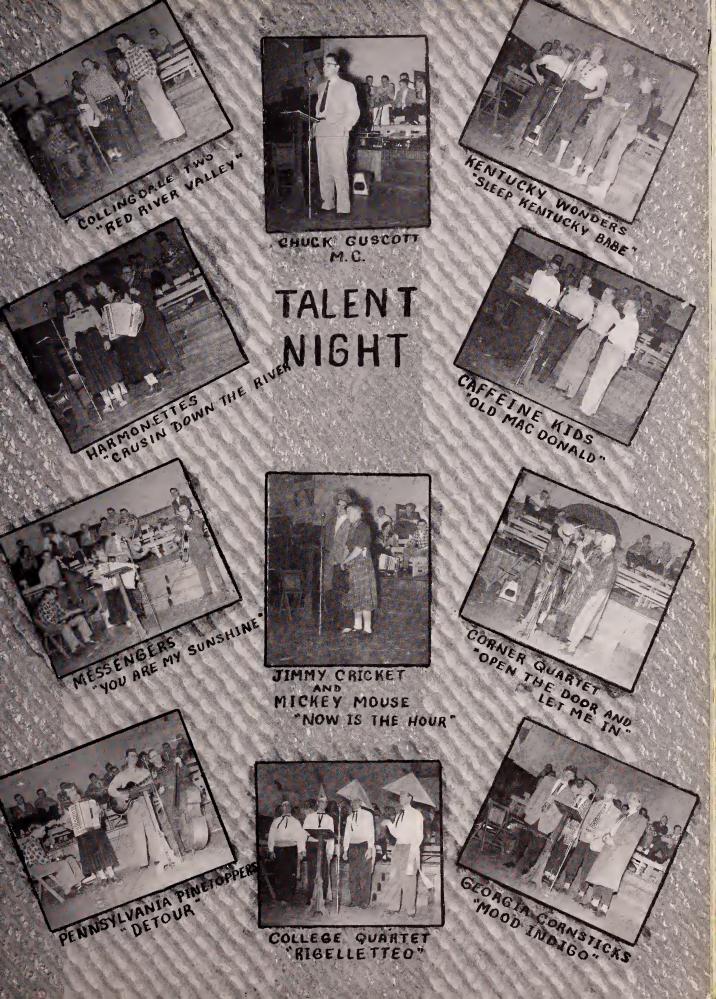

The Rover Crew sponsors Leadership Training which has become the basis for the Youth Leadership Course in the Education Department this year. Rover Crew boys often turn out to be scoutmasters "par excellence," because of their training received here at school.

The affiliation of the Rover Crew with the International Bureau of Scouting in London, England, as well as being chartered by the National Council of B.S.A. brings it into contact with World Youth Leadership.

Pep-rallies before the Gordon games were a new feature which helped the school spirit to rise as high as those gayla E.N.C. balloons, furnished by the Student Council.

Everyone felt like an "old cow hand" at the party last fall at "Wendell Ranch." The Yuletide themes were revivified for all who attended the Christmas fine arts program. Then in a climax of activities, the spring semi-formal banquet was enjoyed in an April garden atmosphere which lended to an encompassment of romance.

An E.N.C. serviceman correspondence system, standardization of term papers, and sign publicity for E.N.C. were the main projects of the Council.

G. Edmund Wallace, extra-sensory perception expert, made skillful interpretations of the various functions of the mind in an interesting Council sponsored program.

Proficient Campus Day organization resulted in the cleanest campus ever this spring.

A goal, unification of students, was achieved through the varied activities and numerous constructive discussions.

Somehow we survived it all and the Camera came out with clock-like precision every other Wednesday evening. We battered the faculty and students with hundreds of questions, sent out "snooping reporters" to every crevice of the campus, and jotted down each passing reaction in order to give a realistic picture of our campus life.

"Who's Who" interviews, program and revival reviews, faculty polls, sports analysis, and editorial comments all helped to produce a picture of E.N.C. life. We epitomized each other in character sketches. We lay awake nights dreaming up impossible situations to publish in "What would happen if . . ."

The midnight oil burned often from the Camera office window. Sometimes we saw traces of half-circles resting beneath the eyes of the loyal editor. But we are proud of the results—a true Camera of the Campus!

Here it is — the 1953 Nautilus! We the staff, have worked undauntedly to achieve our ideals for these pages while, at the same time, trying to meet the rigid deadlines of the printer. It took the efforts of the whole staff—the money collected by the business manager, the "bored-over" articles of the writers, the hours spent by the photographer plus a tireless effort on the part of all the rest—to make this Nautilus possible.

We hope the 1953 Nautilus will mean as much to you as it does to us. We want it to speak of E.N.C. as you would—"A college where Christian youth may learn to adjust to life with the help of a Christian faculty."

We've tried to make it say by picture and word what you feel each day as you attend your classes and chapel, play basketball, sing in the choir, and eat in the dining hall or the Dugout.

When you look within its pages ten years from now, we want your response to be genuinely the same—"E.N.C., our Alma Mater, glorious for aye."

REV. J. GLENN GOULD, D.D.

DR. GOULD'S MESSAGE

MY DEAR FRIENDS:

It is a great privilege to be for four years a member of a college student body, with time to devote to study of the great truths which have made modern civilization what it is, and the disposition to subject oneself to the disciplines of learning which are so essential to one's fullness of life. This of itself should make your college days memorable. But adding immeasurably to the value of these experiences is this: that at Eastern Nazarene College your life of inquiry is lived in an atmosphere of reverent love for God and worship of Him as He is revealed in the life, the suffering and death, and the glorious resurrection triumph of His only begotten Son, our Lord and Savior, even Jesus. As your pastor it has been my hallowed privilege to speak to you frequently on behalf of Christ. My prayer for you is that He will be crowned King in your hearts and that your lives will be hid with Christ in God. Without this supreme value, your lives will be poor indeed. But having this, all else will be enriched and sanctified.

Yours, in the service of Christ,

J. Glenn Gould

Every Sunday morning we are inspired by the thoughtful music of our Church Choir. Hymns like "The House That Stood Firm" bring us into the mood for a devotional message.

In the evening services and during revivals the choir members faithfully bring us inspirational messages in song.

Greg Larkin did an excellent job of directing the choir until February when he left to accept a position at Detroit First Church of the Nazarene as minister of music. Since that time, Mrs. Emily Fliger has been directing the choir. Her capable leadership has been greatly appreciated.

Under the leadership of Alice Jean Shoff, the N.Y.P.S. has presented a variety of interesting services. Trios, Bible readings, solos, speeches, poems, and prayers added to our store of spiritual wealth

We were exhorted to a closer walk with God by services like the one the nurses of the college planned. Other services showed God's many blessings like the one about Christian Heritage planned by one of the Sophomores.

Of course we'll all remember the services in which Professor Naylor and Dean Munro challenged our minds to higher goals.

The Student Ministerial Association is made up of upperclassmen who are studying to be future ministers. The association holds several meetings during the year at which time visiting ministers lecture on subjects which deal directly with the ministry. "What Constitutes a Call?" was the subject of the chapel service sponsored by our Student Ministerial Association this year. Several of the members told how they received their calls to the ministry. We felt this subject to be a timely and helpful one, and appreciated the efforts of our student ministers to foster spiritual growth on campus.

STUDENT MISSIONARY SOCIETY COUNCIL

Letters to missionaries . . . speakers from other countries . . . chapel services . . . prayer and fasting league . . weekly prayer meetings . . . all these have been the activities of the missionary-minded students of our forward-moving Student Missionary Society.

In the evening prayer meetings the needs of missions were made vital by Miss Irma Koffel, on furlough from Africa, and by such devices as a "Talking Box."

After every prayer meeting each member drew the name of a missionary for whom he would especially pray during that week. This year effective prayer has been the emphasis of the S. M. S.

A new project has been the writing of letters to different fields in order to know the specific needs . . . for without knowledge there can be no effective prayer.

"Ask of me and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance."

PROSPECTIVE MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Every Wednesday evening over thirty prospective missionaries gather in the missionary chapel to pray—to pray for those in other lands.

Through the week they keep busy writing personal letters to missionaries and wrapping and sending boxes to the different mission fields. This year over 800 pounds of clothing have been sent to the various mission stations.

The largest and most challenging project was the Easter offering with the goal set for 800 dollars.

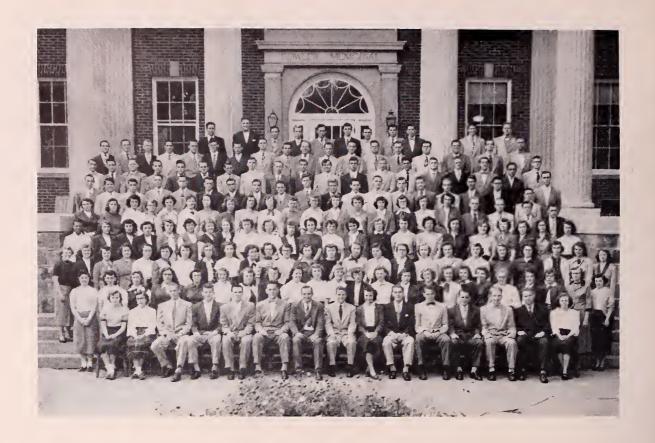

But this group of young people has not only heard Christ's commands to pray . . . send . . . give; they have heard His voice say "Go" . . . they have lifted their eyes . . . looked on the fields — India, Africa, Japan, South America, France — and have seen that they are white already to harvest.

They are preparing to do His bidding — "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

"EVANGELISTS FOR HIM"

This year the Evangelistic Association has continued to work for Christ in Boston and Quincy and the final $200 on the carryall has also been paid.

New work has been started . . . . a Sunday school for the children of South Boston . . . helping with child evangelism at Brockton . . . . supplying musical talent every Sunday evening at Dorchester.

The challenge the Evangelistic Association presents this year is the challenge of winning Souls. That challenge is to "Go out into the highways and the hedges and compel them to come in that my house maybe full."

Although the oratorio is performed here every year, we feel that the "Messiah" is a vital part of E.N.C. and that the words are sung as unto the Lord with a ring of sincerity and praise throughout.

Mrs. Esther Williamson, our Director and contralto soloist, helps us to re-enact the birth of Christ in music—"King of Kings, and Lord of Lords! Hallelujah!"
